The Fourth.

There have been many celebrations of the anniversary of our Nation's independence; elaborate preparations have been made in years gone by and programs have been carried out to the letter, but Monday, July 4, 1898, will stand out for some time to come as the day upon which the most glorious celebration in the city's history took place.

The day in itself was most propitious. In the early morning a light shower fell and laid the dust and after that the sun came out. The prospects were plain for a day clear and pleasant. The city was alive with people, surrounding towns helping to swell the home population.

The parade which formed at 9:20 at the head of Brown street was conceded to be the best that ever marched through the streets on Independence day. There was enough variety to it to please the hundreds of spectators who occupied positions along the line of march. The Parktown fire squad were in line with all their equipment and the little folks enjoyed their antics immensely. The float loaded with little girls representing the different states of the union was very pretty and reflected credit upon the young ladies who fitted it up. The Catholic Knights presented an imposing appearance on their white horses. Each Knight carried two large flags and was in full uniform.

The Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society were out in full costume and looked well.

The firemen's display, was as usual, good, the boys looking trim, business-like and alert in their uniforms.

The band gathered together by Ed. Spuler was a big feature of the day, the music being much enjoyed by the crowds. Several musicians from away helped out the local horn blowers. There were thirteen in the band and their efforts toward harmony were a great deal more successful than is usually the case under the same circumstances.

The races which took place in the afternoon were won as follows:

Men's Bicycle Race—Frank Clifford, 1st; Will Garland, 2d; Bert Marks, 3d.

Pony Race—Guy Morrill, 1st; Harry LaMonte, 2d.

Boy's Bicycle Race—Chas. Ball, 1st; Ed. Faust, 2d; Sam Higgins, 3d.

Men's Foot Race—J. E. Brown, 1st; Fred. Drummelfield, 2d; Jack Duce, 3d.

Running High Jump—Frank Anderson, 1st; Jas. Dillett, 2d; Sam Higgins, 3d.

Boys' Foot Race—Ralph Clark, 1st; Powell, 2d; other name not learned.

Running Broad Jump—Frank Anderson, 1st; J. E. Brown, 2d; Frank Clifford, 3d.

About the most interesting event of the day's program was the race on Stevens Street at five o'clock between the Central and North Side Fire Companies. The point of superiority was to lie with the company making the run from Frederick street to King street, and making a hose connection with the hydrant at the Langdon corner in the shortest time. There was considerable time occupied in getting ready, and owing to some differences among the judges the result as to the winning company was not given out. Both teams gave good exhibitions, and barring a bad fall by "Curly" Butterfield, of Hose Company No. 1, the events were unaccompanied by mishap. The exhibition on Brown street as a finish for the day's program was witnessed by an enormous crowd. The street was lined and packed with people. A small one room building was put up at the corner of Brown and King streets; and at the proper time was saturated with oil and fired. When it was blazing well an alarm box was pulled and the firemen and apparatus from both No. 1 and No. 2 hose houses came tearing down to put it out. The boys from No. 1 got there first and had a line laid to the fire. The hydrant man turned on the water but the pipemen at the nozzle didn't get any of it, for some unknown reason, until the North Side boys were throwing water on the blaze. The latter company obliterated every sign of fire in no time.

The pyrotechnic display at the bridge was up to the average and was witnessed by a large number. The remarks touching on the Cuban situation, the destruction of Cervera's fleet and Shafter's work at Santiago city, which were delivered to the big crowd by Marshal of the Day Crofoot, brought forth yells of joy from hundreds of throats. Mr. Crofoot, though laying no claim to oratorical ability, shouted out the news in a voice fervid with emotion, and the applause which greeted him would have caused joy to fill the heart of a Blaine or Depew. Mr. Crofoot is a modest man, and though the shouting was without doubt gratifying he slipped down from his elevation without betraying signs of it.

McMillan at Iron Mountain.

Big Dan McMillan, the wrestler, came down from Rhinelander yesterday and put the 150 pound shot 24 feet, 1 inch, thus winning first money. Before his last throw he asked for bets that he could not beat the best throw by two feet. "Mac" was looking for suckers but they were not biting yesterday. He can put the 16 pound shot 40 feet—Iron Mountain, (Mich.) Daily Tribune.

McMillan arrived here Wednesday morning. He said that the chances were favorable for a match with a man by the name of Joe Cox, who took second money in the shot throwing contest. If it comes off it will be for $20.00 a side. McMillan offered him the advantage of three feet in case he accepts his offer.

At the White Theatre.

The old favorites, the Ferris Comedians, who are received as friends each season in Marion, filled the White opera house Monday night to overflowing, and gave the audience what it wanted, bright, clean comedy, in "Greased Lightning." The combination has many clever specialty artists, besides good actors and actresses. Tonight a triple bill will be given, consisting of "Lead Me Fifteen Shillings," a specialty olio and a roaring farce. Saturday a matinee will be given, an original and recent version of "Peck's Bad Boy."—Marion, Ind., Advertiser.

At the Grand, Rhinelander, commencing July 18.

Progressing Rapidly.

Chas. Hess, of Chicago, arrived here last week and is busily engaged superintending the work of construction on the box factory plant of Hess & Shaw on the old kindling wood factory site. Mr. Hess is a man of large experience at the work now under his charge and the plant will progress rapidly under his direction. Stone piers have been put in and heavy timbers placed in position for the main building which will soon be up. In point of size the new building will be 50x80 feet. It will be connected with the two buildings now standing when completed, making a structure 143 feet long. Much of the timber from the old factory is being used, it being in first-class condition and practically as good as new.

Died Suddenly.

Charles M. Wilcox, a man 51 years of age, died suddenly Sunday night of heart disease. In company with his wife and two children he came here Saturday from Antigo ostensibly to find employment. The family staid at the home of Chas. Naggs, a relative. Mr. Wilcox accompanied by Mr. Naggs spent the day down town. The two men went home together and it was not thought there was anything out of the common ailing the deceased. He was given a bed and went to sleep. He was discovered at four o'clock in the morning and evidenced no sign of life. A doctor was hastily summoned and arrived about five. He stated that the man had been dead at least two hours and said that heart disease was the cause. Mrs. Lucy M. Wilcox, of Oshkosh, mother of the dead man, came up Tuesday and took the remains to that city for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Pingry arrived home from Owatonna, Minn., today, where they have been for the past six months visiting Mrs. Pingry's parents.

The American soldier is as cool and merry as the American sailor. At Juraguá sharpshooters captured a locomotive and rode into the town, drove the Spanish soldiers out of their camp and then calmly sat down and ate the freshly cooked breakfast prepared for their enemy.

JAMES MARCELLUS HOBSON, a brother of the Merrimac hero, has by competitive examination won an appointment at West Point. For four years past he has been trying to secure appointment at the Annapolis Naval academy, but could not overcome the opposition of an unfriendly congressman.

NETS MENDELK of Abyssinia, the lion of Judah, is preparing to visit Jerusalem in 1904. He wishes to visit the scenes where the mother of his race, the queen of Sheba, was entertained by King Solomon. According to his own genealogical tree Mendelk is the ninety-seventh successor of the queen.

The advancement of the sons of influential politicians over the heads of young men educated for warfare has caused much dissatisfaction. A satirist thus expresses his views on the subject: "Sons of great men all remind us we may make our lives sublime, and with papa's push behind us we can get there every time."

Just at this opportune time, when the question of our part in the far east is under discussion, a Mr. A. W. Nash reaches Tacoma from a three years' stay in China, where, he asserts, he has secured a concession from the Chinese government for the construction of an American syndicate of a railroad 900 miles long, which will cost $20,000,000.

Moslems are forbidden to drink wines or spirits, but in Tunis they contrive to reach the same ends by smoking preparations of hemp flowers. The milder kind is called kif and if used in moderation, has no more effect than wine, but the concentrated essence, known as chira, produces intoxication as quickly as raw spirits and leads to delirium tremens.

The late Justice Daniels, of New York, was one of the many persons afflicted with the dread of being buried alive. "I request," he writes in his will, "that interment shall be delayed until after my decease shall have obviously and certainly taken place, and excluding reliance as to that fact on the opinion of any physician, as such opinions have so often proved to be mistakes."

A RESIDENT of Springfield, Mass., appeared at a police station in that city and announced that he wished to contribute a dollar toward the cost of the war because Spain tortured some of his ancestors in the inquisition. The sergeant in charge declined to accept the contribution on the ground that if the ancestors were tortured only a dollar's worth the case was not one to bother with.

Russia, having extended her territory in Alaska, has been aroused to the necessity of taking active measures to combat infectious diseases in the far east. The government at St. Petersburg is about to send one of the most distinguished medical men of the empire to England to consult with the British authorities as to the means adopted in their far off possession for checking disease.

HOTTENTOT women, who have long been supposed to be about the lowest type of human beings, have an expensive literature of folk stories, folk songs and baby songs, with which they amuse their children. Many of their stories and songs are of considerable beauty, and seem to show that in some forgotten period the tribe or race was much higher in the scale of civilization than it is at the present time.

It is curious how, in France, the old-fashioned lavender has come back into favor. The plant itself used to be considered the emblem of affection, and it is certainly associated in our minds with sweetness and freshness. Many of the best Parisian flowers are scented with it, as well as sachets, while any number of bottles of the perfume are selling in Paris every day. It is better, perhaps, than some of the highly scented perfumes.

COMMODORE GEORGE C. HENRY, the naval officer in charge of the base of supplies for the United States navy at Key West is an Iowa man. He was appointed to the academy at Annapolis from that state in 1893, and was graduated in 1897. At the beginning of the civil war he was commissioned a lieutenant of the gunboat Marblehead. After the war he was made a lieutenant-commander and later served in numerous posts of the navy on land and sea.

THERE are many articles requiring revenue stamps before they can be handled, such as a long list of proprietary medicines, but the special provision that is of widest application is the provision requiring a two-cent stamp to be placed on every inland bill of exchange, every bank check, draft or certificate of deposit not drawing interest, or orders for the payment of any sum of money drawn upon or issued by any bank, trust company or any persons, companies or corporations at sight or demand. Promissory notes of a face value up to $200 require a two-cent stamp.

TROOPS FIGHT ALL DAY.

Gen. Shafter's Army Begins the Attempt to Capture the City of Santiago.

THE SPANISH OUTWORKS ARE TAKEN.

Americans Within About Three Quarters of a Mile of the Cuban City—Over 100 Americans Are Wounded—News from Admiral Dewey and Other Notes.

Washington, July 2.—The war department has received the following from Gen. Shafter dated at Siboney: "Had a very heavy engagement Friday which lasted from eight a. m. till sundown. We have carried their outworks and are now in possession of them. There is now about three-quarters of a mile of open between my lines and the city. By morning troops will be entrenched and considerable augmentation of forces will be there. Gen. Lawton's division and Gen. Bates' brigade which have been engaged all day in carrying El Caney, which was accomplished at four p. m., will be in line in front of Santiago during the night. I regret to say that our casualties will be about 100. Of these not many killed."

"SHAFTER" General Assault. Playa del Este, Province of Santiago de Cuba, July 2.—A general assault on the city of Santiago de Cuba by the land and sea forces of the United States began at seven o'clock Friday morning. Gen. Lawton advanced and took possession of Cabana, a suburb of Santiago. Morro castle and the other forts at the entrance of the harbor were bombarded by our fleet. The Vesuvius used her dynamite guns with good effect. The Spanish fleet in the harbor fired on the American troops, who were very close to the city.

Lawton Begins Attack. According to Gen. Shafter's report, the attack on Santiago was begun by the Second division of the Fifth army corps, commanded by Brig. Gen. H. W. Lawton. This division consists of three brigades made up as follows: First brigade, commanded by Col. J. J. Van Horn—Eighty United States Infantry, Twenty-second United States Infantry and the Second Massachusetts Infantry. Second brigade, commanding officer unknown, but supposed to be Col. Bates—First United States Infantry, Fourth United States Infantry and Twenty-fifth United States Infantry. Third brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. A. R. Chaffee—Seventh United States Infantry, Twelfth United States Infantry and Seventeenth United States Infantry.

All Regulars Except Massachusetts. It thus appears that the division which opened the hostilities of the day is composed entirely of regular troops, seasoned and experienced in battle, with the exception of the Second Massachusetts volunteer infantry, which is regarded as one of the best volunteer organizations of the army.

Bombard Manzanillo. New York, July 2.—A correspondent in Santiago de Cuba telegraphs to the Journal that four United States warships bombarded Manzanillo, on the Gulf of Guacanaybo, on Thursday, inflicting much damage to the defenses of the place. Spanish gunboats, according to this dispatch, opened fire upon the American ships, which then moved out of range.

The same dispatch reports that a balloon sent up from the American camp was seen from Santiago on Thursday. In the balloon were two men, seemingly taking observations of the Spanish fortifications about Santiago.

A Decided Victory. Washington, July 2.—The suspense which followed the receipt of Gen. Shafter's dispatch early Friday morning announcing that a battle had been begun near Santiago was relieved at 12:30 this (Saturday) morning, when a preliminary report of the day's operations was received by Gen. Corbin from Gen. Shafter. As had been expected by the officials of the war department the fight lasted until sundown. During the day probably it was not possible for Gen. Shafter to stop in the midst of the performance of his onerous duties to send dispatches to the department. He was seriously occupied and the work accomplished, as indicated concisely in his dispatch, clearly shows that not much grass grew under his feet during the day. The president and the war officials are immensely pleased at the information conveyed in Gen. Shafter's message. While they learned with sincerest regret that so many of the American troops had fallen in the fight, the ground gained by the day's conflict is regarded as a great victory.

No Match for Our Troops. The battle establishes pretty conclusively that the Spaniards are no match for the enthusiastic and aggressive United States troops. They were driven from their strong entrenchments in front of Santiago back into the city and the Americans are now occupying the entrenchments and awaiting only the dawn to resume the greater battle which will result, it is confidently believed by the war officials, in the fall of Santiago before Sunday night and perhaps before daylight to-day.

Respects Our Blockade. Berlin, July 2.—The following dispatch has been received from Hong-Kong: "According to trustworthy intelligence from Manila the Spanish governor general had a few days ago, at his own request, a meeting with Admiral Dederichs, the commander of the German naval forces in the far east, in order to propose, in behalf of the Spanish government, that Spanish ships be handed into the port of Manila under the protection of a neutral commander. The proposal was rejected by Admiral Dederichs, in view of the American blockade."

Dewey Disappointed. London, July 2.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Manila, dated Tuesday, June 23, via Hong-Kong, says: The nonarrival of the American troops has grievously disappointed Admiral Dewey, but the Americans still count on celebrating the Fourth of July in Manila. It is reported Admiral von Diederichs sent two vessels away on learning that America regarded his attitude as unfriendly. A wholly improved feeling now exists. The American officers express confidence in their ability to dispose of any ships Spain can now send, but in view of the alleged strength of Admiral Camara's squadron, the wish is expressed that the Americans had at least one battleship.

FAIL TO PUBLISH. Trouble with Stereotypes Causes Chicago Newspapers to Miss an Issue. Chicago, July 2.—The following bulletin was posted at every Chicago newspaper office Friday evening at ten o'clock: At eight o'clock this (Friday) evening the Stereotypes union notified the newspaper publishers of Chicago that unless their demands for an increase of wages from $3.25 to $4 per day, reduction of the working day from eight to seven hours, with payment at the rate of 75 cents per hour for all overtime, and other concessions were at once acceded to, they would refuse to return to work. In consequence of this action all Chicago papers will not appear on Saturday.

A BLOODY DEED. A Farmhand in Missouri Murders His Employer and the latter's Wife. St. Louis, July 2.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Jackson, Mo., says: James Eail, a prosperous farmer, and his wife, living three miles south of here, were murdered Friday by John Headrick, a 19-year-old farmhand who had been discharged. Headrick shot the farmer four times, killing him. The murdered man's wife threw herself on his body and asked for mercy, but Headrick cut her throat. After compelling the daughter of his employer to wash the blood off his clothes Headrick escaped. A sheriff's posse is in pursuit.

North Wind Damages Grain. San Francisco, July 2.—A severe north wind has done considerable damage to grain and fruit in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. A GREAT VICTORY.

Admiral Sampson Gives the United States a Glorious 4th of July Present.

Cervera's Fleet Attempts to Escape From Santiago Harbor and is Vanquished.

His Fleet Destroyed. Spanish Loss 350 Killed; 160 Wounded. We Lose One Man.

Washington, July 4.—Admiral Sampson makes the following report: "Playa del Este, via Hayti—To Secretary of the Navy, 2:15 a. m.—Siboney, July 4.—The fleet under my command offers the nation as a Fourth of July present the destruction of the whole of Cervera's fleet. Not one escaped."

It attempted to escape at 9:50 a. m. and at 2 p. m. the last, the Cristobal Colon, had run ashore six miles west of Santiago and had let down her colors.

The Infanta Marie Teresa, Oquendo and Vizcaya were forced ashore, burned and blown up within twenty miles of Santiago. The Furor and Pluton were destroyed within four miles of the port.

Loss, one killed and two wounded. The enemy's loss probably several hundred, from gun fire, explosions and drowning. About 1,500 prisoners including Admiral Cervera.

The man killed was George H. Ellis, chief yeoman of the Brooklyn.

The first reports were as follows: Washington, July 4.—It is reported on what is believed to be reliable authority that Admiral Sampson's fleet on Sunday engaged the fleet of Admiral Cervera and entirely destroyed it.

Confirmed. The following dispatch was received at the war department: "Playa del Este, July 3.—Siboney office confirms statement that all the Spanish fleet except one warship destroyed and burning on the beach. It was witnessed by Capt. Smith, who told the operator there was no doubt of its correctness."

"ALLEN," "Signal Officer." The following cable dispatch was given out at the white house: "Playa del Este, July 3.—The destruction of Cervera's fleet is confirmed."

"ALLEN," "Lieutenant Colonel." Washington, July 4.—The following statement was given out at the white house: Gen. Shafter telegraphs from Playa del Este, July 3: "Early this morning I sent a demand for the immediate surrender of Santiago, threatening to bombard the city. I believe the place will be surrendered."

This contradicts the report that Gen. Shafter has fallen back.

Our Loss About 1,000. A conservative estimate by army men—not official—is that our casualties during Friday's fighting were nearly if not quite 1,000, about 15 per cent. of which were deaths. Saturday's casualties on the American side were much lower because our troops had been well entrenched the night before.

Watery Graves. Cleveland, O., July 4.—Five persons were drowned in the lake here Sunday. H. H. Fralick and Miss Jeannette Kaiser lost their lives while bathing in the presence of several hundred persons. They were floating on a log, when Miss Kaiser lost her hold and sank. Fralick tried to save her and both went down. Two unknown men rocked a boat which capsized, and both drowned. One man was a cripple. In the pocket of the other was an envelope with the address "Mr. Brown, Middletown, N. Y." Frank Shuback, a news agent, lost his life while bathing.

Will Sail in a Few Days. Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long states that no changes have been made in the naval programme. Commodore Watson's fleet, he said, will sail for Spain in a few days, even should Camara's squadron return to Spain.

Treasure from the Klondike. Seattle, Wash., July 4.—Steamer New England arrived here from St. Michael's, with 20 miners from Dawson City. They brought $175,000 in gold dust and drafts, making an aggregate of half a million dollars.

More Ships at Port Said. Cairo, July 4.—It is rumored here that more Spanish ships are arriving at Port Said.

A special meeting was recently held by the society "Vaad Hazioni," of Manchester, Eng., and it was decided to organize a colonial bank for the cause of Zion.

In view of the prevalence of the influenza in Japan it has been decreed that everyone who approaches the emperor shall first take a bath to kill the germs.

Viola Allen, by arrangements completed last week, will make her stellar debut at the Lyric theater, New York, October 5, as Glory, in Hall Caine's "The Christian."

HOW ROUGH RIDERS FELL

Official Report of Gen. Wheeler to Gen. Shafter of the Battle of Sibley.

ATTACK WAS DELIBERATELY PLANNED.

The Americans Were Not Ambushed—Gen. Wheeler and Young Knew Where Spaniards Were and Determined to Drive Them Out Completely.

Camp Juragua, June 29 (via Kingston, Jamaica, July 1).—Gen. Wheeler's official report to Maj. Gen. Shafter of what is known as the battle of Sibley is as follows:

"In Camp Juragua, June 29.—To the Adjutant General of the Fifth Army Corps: Sir, I have the honor to report that, in obedience to the instructions of the major general commanding, given me in person on June 22, I proceeded to Sibley (Juraguá). The enemy had evacuated the place at daylight the morning, taking a course towards Sibley. A body of about 100 Cubans had followed and engaged the enemy's rear guard. About nine of them were wounded.

"I rode out to the front and found the enemy had halted and established themselves at a point about three miles from Sibley. At night the Cubans returned to the vicinity of the town. A. W. Trevitt, Chairman of Cong. Com.

When peace comes again let every man in this country speak and write and vote for the American ship. We need the American ship "in our business" we need it in our wars. We will never have it, though, until the nation is convinced of its indispensable value.

Good politics demands that we be loyal to our assembly district that we stand by it as long as it has a candidate before a state convention. As the congressional district is expected and does stand solid for the nomination of its candidate before a convention, so is any assembly district expected to stand solid for its candidates before a congressional or state senatorial convention when there is but one candidate from that district for the nomination. Therefore, as a part of the assembly district made up of the counties of Oneida, Vilas, and Price were upon our honor to support and assist in the nominating of any candidate our district may have before any congressional convention or state senatorial convention. As our assembly district has in the Hon. S. S. Miller, of Oneida county, a candidate for congressman we must by force of right and justice support him so long as he is a candidate before the convention. To do otherwise would be political suicide for our country and for years to come there would rest upon us a few which would confront us at all times were we to ask anything of the district. It is but right that we should support Mr. Miller for congress and we feel assured that Price county will do so until they are at liberty to do otherwise. In fact we know of many prominent republicans who though personally favor Mr. Stewart, are taking this view of the question because they believe that it is proper and to the county's best interest to do so.—Phillips Tree.

Terrible Disaster.

Four hundred passengers on board the French steamer La Bourgogne, were drowned in a collision with the English Steamer Cromartyshire near Halifax, N. S., Tuesday night. The vessels met in a dense fog and but 200 of the 600 on board the French ship were saved.

Hobson to be Exchanged.

Word was received at the war department yesterday from General Shafter saying that he had received a proposition from Gen. Toral, in command of the Spanish forces at Santiago, to exchange Hobson and his men, the exchange to take place this morning. The Spanish General refused Gen. Shafter's proposition to exchange Monday.

For Miller.

Judge S. S. Miller, of Rhinelander, has announced himself as a candidate for Congress from the 9th Congressional District, subject to the will of the voters of the Republican convention.

Judge Miller is in every way qualified to fill the position with not only honor to himself but to the entire satisfaction of his constituents, and we sincerely hope that he will receive the nomination. He belongs to the Congressional district of which Vilas county forms a part and will, as he undoubtedly should, receive our solid support.

Mr. Stewart has received the recognition of the Republican party for the past four years, and while we have nothing personally against him or his third term candidacy, we think that it is time for him to step down and out, especially when we have a candidate who is his superior as Judge Miller is, and we hope that the republicans of Vilas county will not only see that Judge Miller receives the nomination but also the election.—Minocqua Times.

Cervera's Fleet No More.

Another victory for the American people and the Stars and stripes was chronicled Sunday, July 3, when Acting Admiral Sampson and the warships under his command met in battle and destroyed the much advertised and powerful Spanish fleet commanded by Admiral Cervera off the coast of Santiago de Cuba. The ships under the Spanish admiral endeavored to pass through the narrow channel at the mouth of Santiago harbor at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. They succeeded in passing the Merrimac wreck sunk by the daring heroism of Hobson and his gallant men, and, although immediately espied by the lookouts on the American ships, were allowed to proceed out to sea until out of range of the guns from Morro Castle. When they had cleared the distance, however, a hail of steel projectiles was hurled at them, terrible in its destructive power. The Spanish ships kept up an awful fire from their guns from the time they emerged from the bay in which they had been cooped up for so long, but it availed them little. In an incredibly short time, considering the formidable character of the Spanish ships, all were sunk by shells or run ashore by their commanders, battered and crippled hulks.

The American loss was one man killed, a yeoman on the flagship Brooklyn. Thirteen hundred Spanish prisoners, including Admiral Cervera, were captured.

The victory is a splendid one, and only equalled by Admiral Dewey's brilliant achievement at Manila. That the U. S. navy is amply able to accomplish any task it undertakes has been convincingly demonstrated to Spain and the world at large. There will be no under-estimating the power of this country on the sea from now on. As a factor in controversies with foreign nations it will be given every consideration. The Spanish fleet was acknowledged to be one of the strongest on the sea, and its destruction without the loss of an American vessel was phenomenal and appeals to the pride of every man that calls this country home.

Why Should Hon. Alex. Have a Third Term?

This is the question which is troubling the minds of the average republican of the ninth district, and yet the Hon. Alex. Stewart seems to think that he should be rewarded. During the four years which he has been in Washington, he has done nothing except, perhaps, when spring came to send a few packages of garden seed to his constituents, or perhaps some dusty old speech delivered by someone in the house. Thus far this has been about the extent of his congressional (?) work. Is this enough to base the claim for a third term upon? We think not, and yet Hon. Alex. would like two years more to complete this great piece of congressional work. The ninth district, which in area is equal to about one third of the state, should be represented by a man able to protect the interests which are more diversified than the older portion of the state, and which will require the close attention of the ablest man we have.

In state affairs many of our present officers have made an excellent record, and yet public opinion will not allow that they be nominated for the third term, and they, knowing full well of this feeling, do not, nor will they go before the people and ask for the third term. How much less, then, should a man who has done nothing expect to receive recognition and the unusual honor of a third term. It is true that in congress when you have secured the services of a good man he should be returned, but if the Hon. Alex. was returned for any number of terms he would never command recognition nor get anything but an inferior position among the legislative branch of government, therefore we are of the opinion that four years of honor are enough for the Hon. Alex., and he should retire or be retired. While the office has perhaps been an honor to him we do not believe that he has in any way been an honor to the office. He has undoubtedly done his best to represent the district, but his best has been poor indeed.—Medford Star and News.

The track meet arranged to be given in this city at Combination park on the Fourth of July has been postponed. It is now arranged to give the events on August 11.

The reasons given for the postponement are plausible enough. The management has been unable to secure riders enough to make the events interesting, owing to the numerous other attractions in the state on that date. One of the biggest attractions that would interfere with the Oshkosh races is the Chicago road race to be given on that date, in which nearly all the Milwaukee riders are anxious to participate. The prizes offered amount to about $1,700.

There will also be a race in Milwaukee on Saturday, one in Neenah on the Fourth and one in Wausau on the Fourth.

There have been a few entries, but not enough to make the event interesting. The date, August 11, was selected for the reason that it is the date of the state circuit meet and all the riders will be here following the circuit.

Nothing will prevent a good series of events on that date and it is the opinion of all that it was a politic move to postpone the Fourth of July races until that time.

Prosperity.

A man's condition depends almost entirely upon himself. Luck is but a small factor to most men in attaining wealth. Industry, perseverance and good judgment make the foundation upon which a man builds well. The first start in life of many of our best men has been upon a farm. Opportunities are as good at present as they have been in the past. Fine hardwood farming lands in Northern Wisconsin, adjacent to the Wisconsin Central line, are still to be had at very reasonable figures and on easy terms. Build a home of your own and be happy.

THE WOODBURY DEPOSITS

of iron ore, clay, kaolin and marl, together with the large hardwood timber tract in Northern Wisconsin, offer extraordinary inducements for the location of manufacturing plants. The Wisconsin Central line, run through some of the richest localities in the state and afford the manufacturer excellent facilities for reaching the market quickly and at reasonable rates. Interested parties can obtain illustrated pamphlets and maps, as well as detailed information by addressing W. H. Killen, Industrial and Deputy Land Commissioner, Colby and Abbott Building, Milwaukee, Wis.

A private letter received here from Miss Bessie Greenly confirms the report which was circulated here two weeks ago that M. H. Greenly, formerly in the hardware business in this city, had been killed in a railroad wreck. The terrible accident which resulted so fatally occurred on June 19 and was caused by a misplaced switch. The family had just moved to Ottawa, and were commencing to unpack their goods preparatory to commencing housekeeping when the news of the awful calamity was brought to them. The remains were taken to Adrian, Mich., for burial, and laid to rest those of his father and mother. The family are at Chicago, Ind., where they will remain for the present, as their plans for the future are as yet unformed.

A good story reached here this week from Lac du Flambeau. The boys up there were enjoying a picnic and Indian Farmer Vase was a guest. Vase is considerable of a sportsman, and when one of the picnickers reported a flock of ducks out on one of the lakes the Farmer grabbed his gun and started out with a steam yacht and a row boat, the latter to be used where the yacht couldn't. A merry start was made and the game sighted, but it was of the elastic order and would keep out of range. After a chase through lakes innumerable, and considerable exertion on the part of the general Farmer and a young man who accompanied him, two of the "ducks" were bagged. They were young ones and when landed in the boat were found to be loons. It is understood that the steam yacht and row boat were headed for the side opposite from where the picnic was held when the return trip was made.

Mrs. Geo. Clayton was at Waupaca Friday, in attendance at the funeral of her nephew, Fred Ward, who died at Chickamauga the preceding Tuesday. The young man was among the first to enlist when the present hostilities broke out, and while in camp at Chickamauga was stricken with typhoid fever, and after an illness of two weeks died. He was the only son of Mr. C. P. Ward, a gentleman well known to Rhinelander business men. He had just completed his eighteenth year, and had graduated a year ago from the Waupaca High School. His entire life had been spent in Waupaca, and he was a great favorite with all. Mr. and Mrs. Ward have many friends in this city who will learn with regret of their great bereavement.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale at Palace Drug Store.

Another New Industry.

Edward L. Robbins and Walter T. Hartman were here last week and completed arrangements with the Advancement Association relative to locating here. These gentlemen constitute the Wisconsin Co-operative Co., articles of incorporation for which are now on file with the secretary of state. The company has a capital stock paid in of $20,000, and was formerly known as the Greener Co., of Auburn, Indiana.

Work on the new plant will commence as soon as the ground is cleared. The site furnished by the Advancement Association is that of the old "Soo" rail. There is considerable lumber piled there now, and it will take some time to remove it. Mr. Robbins is secretary and treasurer of the new company, and Mr. Hartman is vice president. Both of these gentlemen will locate here and make Rhinelander their home.

The "New Idea" Wagon.

There is nothing so much needed on the farm as a Low-Down, Broad Tire, Wide-Platform wagon. It is used more than all other implements put together. It is just the thing for hauling corn stalks, tools, manure, grain or anything. It pulls easily, because the wide tires roll over the surface and cut no ruts that drain off the fertilizer or juices of the manure. The low wheel saves half the lifting, and the Top Half too. Such a wagon saves the wages of one man in loading. It will last a generation and you will have no tire setting or repair bills. It does away with strained backs from lifting over high wheels. It is a Road Maker and not a Road Breaker. It will not upset on side hills and it is great on marshes.

These wagons have wood axles 3 1/2 inch capacity, two tons weight, 4 1/2 inch wide or narrow track; bolsters only 12 inches from ground; fitted with the best steel wheels on the market, 2 1/2 inch high front and 2 1/2 inch rear, with 1 1/2 inch tires. The skids are made of the best iron and are very smooth. The hubs have two deep hollow circles for holding the grease or oil. These are by far the Cheapest and Best Farm Wagons ever made.

N. QUAD AND HIS FUN

The Passing of a School-Teacher in a Kentucky District.

(Copyright, 1918.)

There were three or four men, two women and half a dozen children grouped around the door of a big school-house as I came along, and when I halted for a drink at the spring and asked what was going on one of the men replied:

"We are going to get a new school-teacher for this district, and we've got to ax her a few questions to see if she's fit. She's inside that, and if you ain't in no great hurry you might step in. We've bin thinkin' over what to ax, and I reckon we'll proceed to business."

The candidate was a mountaineer's daughter about 13 years old, and as we went in she was doing a simple sum on the blackboard. She had added up 19 and 13 and made the sum total of 32, and the result seemed to be entirely satisfactory to her.

"Well, Jinny," said the chairman of the board of directors, "I reckon we'll git along. No use to git rarius, fur ye are bound to come out all right. The first thing we want to know is about Nashville."

"Nashville is the capital of Tennessee," promptly replied the girl.

"That's correct, Jinny, and a right smart town she be. So many folks walkin' around all the time you'd think that was a circus goin' on every day. She's in Tennessee, of course."

"Yes, sir."

"Now, then, how we got any rivers in the state to brag about?"

"The Tennessee and the Cumberland."

"For shore, Jinny. Can't do too much braggin' about them rivers. How we got any mountains in this state?"

"The Cumberland."

"That's right, and that's about 'em in geography, as they calls it. If it's hard, however, you might mention the name of an ocean. We ain't particular about it, 'cause we've got nothing to do with oceans around here, but you might jest fling out a name to keep things going."

"The Atlantic ocean," she said, after some little thought.

"Ye're hit it, Jinny!" replied the examiner with a smile of satisfaction. "We will now pass to spelling. Let's see! How do you spell 'bar'?"

"Bar, bar."

"That's right, and I reckon it's just as good for a white bar as a black one. I ain't wishin' to rush things, but if ye ain't too tired ye might spell 'man' and 'eat'."

The girl spelled them both correctly, while the women lifted their hands in astonishment and the children looked upon her in awe and wonder.

"I reckon that's about all," said the man as he looked around at his fellow-directors. "Hold on, though—we've forgot the arithmetic. Jinny, if I let two dollars and Jonas Day has the same, how many dollars has we both together?"

"Two and two makes four," she replied, and, catching her breath, she continued: "Three and three is six—four and four is eight, and twice five is ten. I can tell ye how much ten and ten are if ye want to know."

"Could ye? Well, I don't doubt it in the least, for such smartness I never saw left!" said I as on this head, I don't want to pile it on, but maybe ye'd like to tell us what Columbus did."

"Found America."

"So he did, Jinny—so he did, and ye can begin this school at nine o'clock Monday mornin', and if ye scholars don't turn out to be the smartest in all Tennessee it won't be ye's fault. I'll be jest because they are too danged shiffles to chew their way into school-book!"

Why He Stuck.

When I reached the town of Fair Hope I found it to number seven houses and a deserted store, and for a quarter of an hour I was led to believe that all the inhabitants had fled. I had looked into the open windows and passed through the open doors of all the houses when an old man called to me from a chamber window of the last house and asked what was wanted.

"Is this the town of Fair Hope?" I asked.

"Can't be any other," he replied.

"But there are no people here."

"No—nobody but me."

"What's become of them?"

He said he'd come down and explained about ten minutes he showed up on the doorstep. He was a man of about 50, ragged and unkempt, but his face betrayed obstinacy and determination.

A GUARDSMAN'S TROUBLE.

From the Detroit (Mich.) Journal.

The promptness with which the National Guard of the different states responded to President McKinley's call for troops at the beginning of the war with Spain made the whole country proud of its citizen soldiers. In Detroit there are few guardsmen more popular and efficient than Max R. Dimes, first sergeant of Co. B.

He has been a resident of Detroit for the past six years and his home is at 116 Third Avenue. For four years he was connected with the well known wholesale drug house of Farran, Williams & Clark, the capacity of a bookkeeper.

"I have charged up many thousand orders for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," said Mr. Dimes. "I never knew that the First Sergeant."

He was called to the front for the cure of chronic dyspepsia. For two years I suffered and doctored for that aggravating trouble, but could only be helped temporarily.

"I think dyspepsia is one of the most stubborn of ailments, and there is scarcely a clerk or office man but what is more or less a sufferer from it. I could eat anything, while at other times I would be starving. Those distressing pains would force me to quit work."

"I tried the hot-water treatment thoroughly, but it did not affect my case. I have tried many a famous remedy, but they would help only for a time. A friend of mine recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but I did not think much of them."

"I finally was induced to try the pills and commenced using them. After taking a few doses I found much relief. I do not remember how many bottles I took, but I used them until the old trouble stopped. I know they will cure dyspepsia of the worst form and I am pleased to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

DOWN ON THE FADS.

Mr. Stately Believed in Hitting Young People Down to a Business Basis.

"Mrs. Stately," began her husband, the other evening, "there's a good deal of what they term a fadist. It has been my rule to humor all your eccentricities, but from this time on, unless I find good and sufficient reason to change my mind, the education of our children is to be of the most practical nature possible."

"Just as you say."

"I understand that Loretta studied botany for three years, yet last season she went out to gather some greens and brought in the worst collection of weeds I ever saw outside of a bankrupt farm. They would have poisoned a mule. Yesterday this botanist sent me a card. Yesterday with a bunch of red ink she wrote three inches thick and in fine print that, while you were in the back yard setting out sweet peas, Isabel went through the cooking department from potato paring to fine pastries, and yet you can't keep her in the kitchen long enough to prepare a roast."

"That's true," said Mrs. Stately. "I have noticed that you can't figure the simple interest on a promissory note for more or less than a single year. He can blow around about the constellations and about the direct communication with Mars, but I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home."

"I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home," said Mr. Stately. "I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home."

"I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home," said Mr. Stately. "I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home."

"I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home," said Mr. Stately. "I'll bet a farm he couldn't keep his own home."

AN AVERAGE VERDICT.

It Was Struck Through a Difference of Opinion Among the Jury on Damages.

While the lawyers were waiting for court to open, and before they flew at each other's throats, they exchanged a few stories of the profession.

"The longest trial in which I was ever engaged was one of my first," said a grizzled, old attorney. "I was counsel for the plaintiff in a suit brought to recover damages caused by a runaway horse. My client had been knocked down and slightly bruised, but very much, just enough to lose a lawsuit. I had a very strong case. In fact, there was practically no defense, and the defendant was a rich man, so I asked for $200,000, hoping to get half. Well, when the jury came in they rendered a verdict for the plaintiff with damages assessed at $4,000. Of course the judge promptly set the verdict aside as excessive, and I had to begin a new case."

"Some day I'll tell you the story of the jury and asked him how in the world they arrived at such a verdict."

"Well, I don't quite understand it myself," he said, scratching his head. "We all agreed for the plaintiff on the first vote, but each fellow had his own idea as to the damages. I was in a rage to find another fellow (though it really is to be $200,000) and another stuck out for $200, and we were getting all tangled up, when one of the jury suggested that we strike an average."

"That you couldn't have done that," said I.

"That's just what we did," said the fellow. "Each man put down what he thought right and I added them together. Now there does seem to be something wrong about that verdict, but I guess I can see where it is!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

UNFORTUNATE COLORS.

Jaundiced Man with Red Necktie Is Taken for a Spaniard and Has a Narrow Escape.

The man with the yellow jaundice leaped up against the drug store at the corner of Harrison and Haled street and waved the preparation from his forehead. He was badly out of breath and he consequently talked rather breathlessly to the man who came to a standstill in front of a saloon talking man. "I stopped to hear what the latest was. I was doing a thing when some fellow came out and said 'Look at that Spaniard right here in the crowd.' Everybody turns around and a brick just grazes my ear. I say, 'I don't see what you're talking about.' 'You see that red necktie? That's the red in his necktie—'grinch him.' The fellow crowd me for some time and I got this time and got away. But say, I've got to wear a different colored necktie till I get over these jaundice janders."—Chicago Chronicle.

WHY THE COOK FELT HURT.

Her Employer Was Not Paid Up from Overeating and She Felt Slighted.

A lady had a cook who gave her every satisfaction and she was under the impression that the cook was equally satisfied with her place. But one morning, to the lady's intense surprise, the cook gave her the usual month's notice.

"What do you want to leave for, Jane?" asked the lady. "I am very much pleased with you, and I thought you were quite comfortable here."

"Yes, mum, I'm comfortable enough in a way, but—"

The cook hesitated and fidgeted about. "What's the matter, Jane?"

"Well, mum, I'm bothered out of the fact is the master doesn't seem to appreciate my cooking, and I can't step in a place where my efforts to please are wasted; so I'd rather go, mum."

"But what makes you think that your master doesn't appreciate your cooking? Has he ever complained to you?" asked the lady.

"No, mum, but my late master was always being laid up through overeating—he said he couldn't help doing so because my cooking was so delicious—but master here hasn't been laid up once all the three months I've been with you, and that's just what bothers me so, mum!"—Boston Traveler.

A LEAF FROM CAMP LIFE.

The Varied Commotions of Lieutenant Mahoney When He Went to Town.

When Lieut. Mahoney came to Sioux City to recruit men he was introduced to a number of friends for the members of companies H and I. He pulled them all down on a piece of paper, and referred to them when he came to Sioux City. This piece of paper will give an idea of what the men wanted in Sioux City and some of the things Lieut. Mahoney had to do. It reads as follows:

"Get three 35-caliber Colts, for officers."

"Get a ruler and some black lead pencils."

"Get Harry Hamilton's girl."

"Have that order of roses countermanded for cigars."

"Take Claypole's new vest, and get his old one out of the closet."

"Get Harry Chapman's blanket strap and tray for chess."

"Get any old thing."—Sioux City Journal.

Proposed Alliance with England.

If the United States and England should form an alliance, the combined strength would be so great that there would be little chance for enemies to overcome us. In a like manner, when men and women keep up their bodily strength with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, there is little chance of attack from disease. The old-time remedy attacks the blood, builds up the muscles, steadies the nerves and increases the appetite. Try it.

CASH DEPARTMENT STORE.

Originator and promoter of the One Price System, enabling a child to buy as cheaply as its mother, which others are imitating but are only imitators.

"I have no father," he answered, waxing wroth. "The heavens above are my father. I am born of blood and fire, and she, the Lilly, is born of beauty, to be my mate. Now, woman, be silent." He thought awhile and added, "Nay, if you will know, my father was Indabazimbi the Witchfinder, the Smeller out of the Thing, the son of Arpi." This Umslopogass said at a hazard, since having denied me he must declare a father and might not name the Black One who was gone. But in after years the saying was taken up in the land, and it was told that Umslopogass was the son of Indabazimbi the Witchfinder, who had long ago fled the land, nor did he deny it. For when all this game had been played out he would not have it known that he was the son of TChaka, he who no longer sought to be a king, lest he should bring down the wrath of Panda upon him.

When the people heard this they thought that Umslopogass mocked Zinita, and yet in his anger he spoke truth when he said first that he was born of the heavens above, for so we Zulus name the king, and so the witch doctor Indabazimbi named TChaka on the day of the great smelling out. But they did not take it in this sense. They held that he spoke truth when he said that he was born of Indabazimbi, the witch doctor who had fled the land, whether I do not know.

Then Nada turned to Zinita and spoke to her in a sweet and gentle voice: "If I be not sister to Zinita, yet I shall soon be sister to you, who are the Chiefs' Inkosikana, Zinita. Shall that not satisfy you, and will you not greet me kindly and with a kiss of peace, who have come from far to be your sister?" And she held out her hands toward her. Zinita scowled and jerked at her necklet of beads, breaking the string on which they were threaded, so that the beads rolled this way and that.

"Keep your kisses for our lord, girl," said Zinita roughly; "as the beads are scattered, so shall you scatter this People of the Ax."

Now Nada turned away with a little sigh and the people murmured, for they held that Zinita had treated her ill. Then she stretched out her hand again and gave the lily in it to Umslopogass, saying:

"Here is a token of our betrothal, lord, for never a head of cattle have my father and I sent, we who are outcasts, and indeed the bridegroom must but woman, and after the fashion of us women takes all that she can gather. Little is a man and a chief and should have wisdom and justice."

"He has bewitched him with her beauty. Let us kill her," said the other women.

"Nay," answered Zinita, "I will speak with her, and she will and shoot in the path along which the lily walked singing, her arms folded across her breast."

Now Nada saw her and ceased singing, stretched out her hand to welcome her, saying, "Greeting, sister." But Zinita did not take it. "It is not fitting, sister," she said, "that my hand, stained with toil, should defile yours, fresh with the scent of flowers. But I am charged with a message on my own behalf and the behalf of the other wives of our lord, Bulalio. The weeds grow thick in yonder corn and we women are few; now that your love days are over will you not come and help us? If you brought no hoe from your Swazi home surely we will buy you one."

Now Nada saw what was meant, and the blood poured to her head. Yet she answered calmly:

"I would willingly do this, my sister, though I have never labored in the fields, for wherever I have dwelt the men have kept me back from all labor save such as the weaving of flowers or the stringing of beads. But there is this against it: Umslopogass, my husband, charged me that I should not labor with my hands, and I may not disobey my husband."

"Our husband charged you so, Nada? Nay, then it is strange. See, now, I am his head wife, his Inkosikana. It was I who taught him how to win the Ax. Yet he has laid no command on me that I should not labor in his fields after the fashion of women, I who have borne him children, nor indeed has he laid such command on any of our sisters, his other wives. Can it then be that Bulalio loves you better than us, Nada?"

Now the Lilly was in a trap and she knew it. So she grew bold.

"One must must be loved, Zinita," she said, "as one must be most fair. You have had your hour, leave me mine, perchance it shall be short. Moreover this, Umslopogass and I loved each other much long years before you or any of his wives looked upon him, and we love each other to the end. There is no more to say."

"Nay, Nada, there is still something to say, there is this to say: Choose one of two things—go and leave us to be happy with our lord or stay and bring death on all."

Now Nada thought awhile and answered: "Did I believe that my love would bring death on him I love it might well chance that I would go and leave him, though to do so would be to die. But, Zinita, I believe it not. Death chiefly loves the weak and if he falls it will be on the flower, not on the slayer of men." And she slipped past Zinita and went on, singing no more.

Zinita watched her until she was over the ridge, and her face grew evil as she watched. Then she returned to the women.

"The Lilly flouts us all, my sisters," she said. "Now hearken, this is my counsel, that we declare a feast of women to be held at the new moon in a secret place far away. All the women and the children shall come to it save Nada only, who will not leave her lover, and if there be any man whom a woman loves, perchance, my sisters, that man would do well to go on a journey about the time of the new moon, for evil things may befall at the town of the People of the Ax while we are away celebrating our feast."

"What, then, shall befall, my sister?" asked one.

"Nay, I know not," she answered. "I know this only, that we are invited to be rid of Nada and thus to be avenged on a man who has scorned our love, ay, and on those men who follow after the beauty of Nada. Is it not so, my sisters?"

"It is so," they answered.

"Then be silent on the matter and let us give out our feast."

Now Nada told Umslopogass of these words with Zinita. Yet because of the medicine of Nada's eyes he would not turn from his way. Thus when Zinita came to him and asked leave to declare a feast of women that should be held far away he said yes, and gladly.

Now I, Umbona, saw the glimmer that had fallen upon Umslopogass, my fosterling, and spoke of it with Galazi, saying that a means must be found to wake him. Then I took Galazi fully into my mind and told him all that he did not know of Umslopogass, and that was little. Also I told him of my plans to bring the Slaughterer to the throne, and of what I had done to that end, and of what I proposed to do, and that was to go in person on a journey to certain of the great chiefs and win them over.

I determined to go, and that was on the day before Zinita went home to celebrate the feast of women afar. So I sought Umslopogass and told him and bade him farewell, to Nada also I bade farewell.

CHAPTER XXX.

ZINITA COMES TO THE KING.

While Dingaan the king sat upon a day in the kraal Umgungundlovu, one came near, saying that a woman craved leave to speak upon some great matter.

"Let her come," he answered.

Presently the woman was led in.

"What is thy errand?" asked the king.

"I ask blood, O King."

"The blood of whom?"

"The blood of Bulalio the Slaughterer, chief of the People of the Ax; the blood of Nada the Lilly and of all those who cling to her."

"What?" he cried, "does the Lilly then live, as the captain thought?"

"She lives, O King. She is wife to the Slaughterer, and has put me, his first wife, away."

For a little while Dingaan sat astounded.

Then Zinita drew near and told Dingaan the tale of the birth of Umslopogass and all that followed; and by many a token and many a deed of TChaka that he remembered, Dingaan the king knew that it was a true tale.

When at length she had done he summoned the captain of the regiment that stood around him. He was a great man named Faku, and he also summoned certain men who do the king's bidding.

To the captain of the impi he spoke straightly, saying:

"Take three companies and guides and come by night to the town of the People of the Ax that is by Ghost mountain, and burn it and slay all the wizards who sleep therein. Most of all, slay the chief of the people, who is named Bulalio the Slaughterer, or Umslopogass. Slay him by torture if you may, but slay him and bring his head to me. Take that wife of his who is known as Nada the Lilly alive, if ye may, and bring her to me, for I would cause her to be slain here. Bring the cattle also. Now go, and go swiftly, this hour. If ye return having failed in one jot of my command ye die, every one of you—ye die, and slowly. Begone!"

The captain saluted and running to his regiment issued a command. Three full companies leaped forward at his word and ran after him through the gates of the kraal Umgungundlovu, heading for the Ghost mountain.

Then the king commanded those who do his bidding that they should take the children of Zinita and slay them. Presently they slew her also.

Galazi sat on the lap of the Stone Witch and gazed idly toward the kraal of the People of the Ax, and as he gazed his eyes caught a gleam of light that seemed to travel in and out of the edge of the shadow of Ghost mountain. He started and watched. It was a little impi running in companies, and each man had assegai and shield.

Now Galazi knew well that these were the king's dogs and their game was men, a big kraal of sleeping men, otherwise there had been fewer dogs. Galazi wondered whom they sought. Ah! Now they turned to the ford and he knew. It was his brother Umslopogass and Nada the Lilly and the People of the Ax. These were the king's dogs, and Zinita had let them slip.

Galazi bounded to his feet. From boulder to boulder he leaped like a buck, he crashed through the brake like a bull, he skimmed the level like a swallow. The mountain was done with now; there in front lay the river, foaming in its flood. Ah! a good leap far into the torrent. It is strong, but he breasts it. He is through, and away up the narrow gorge of stone to the long slope.

Before him is the town. Ah! they are there. He sees moving through the grass the long line of the Slayers. Six spear throws to run and they have but such a little way! The meale plants are tall and at a spot they almost touch the fence. He is there, hidden by the meale stalks, and there along the fence to the right and to the left the Slayers creep.

"Wow! What was that?" said one man of the king to another man, as they joined their guard, completing the death circle. "Wow! Something great and black crashed through the fence before me."

"I heard it, brother," answered the other man.

"Is your fire ready, brother? Wow! These wizards shall wake warm! The signal should be soon."

Then arose the sound of a great voice, crying:

"Awake, ye sleepers! The foe is at your gates!"

CHAPTER XXXI.

THE END OF THE PEOPLE BLACK AND GRAY.

Then he met set Nada on his shoulders.

Galazi rushed through the town crying aloud, and behind him rose the stir of men. All were asleep and no sentinel was set for Umslopogass was so lost in his love for the Lilly that he forgot his wisdom and thought to more of war or death or the hate of Dingaan. Presently the Wolf came to the large new hut which Umslopogass had caused to be built for Nada the Lilly, and there he entered, for there he knew he should find his brother Bulalio. On the far side of the hut the two lay sleeping, and the head of Umslopogass rested on the Lilly's breast, and by his side gleamed the great assegaai.
